

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. NOTE.

THE Catalogue of which this is the first volume will include the whole of the Manuscript Music in the British Museum, except that in the case of liturgical manuscripts, whether of the Roman, Greek, or Lutheran Church, only those portions which contain harmonized music are described.

The present volume is devoted exclusively to Sacred Vocal Music, its contents being classified under subject-headings, a full list of which is given in the table on p. v. Vol. II, which may be expected within a year, will comprise Secular Vocal Music, and Vol. III, completing the work, Instrumental Music, Treatises on Music, a Reference-list of musical instruments depicted in manuscripts, and other miscellaneous matter. For the convenience of those who are interested in one class of music only, and for other reasons, each volume will have its own indices and thus be complete in itself.

Mr. A. Hughes-Hughes is responsible for the compilation of the entire Catalogue.

Keeper of MSS.

MANUSCRIPT MUSIC.

IN THE

BRITISH MUSEUM.

PART I.—VOCAL MUSIC—SACRED.

SECTION I.—ANTHEMS

AS SUNG IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND, INCLUDING A FEW EARLY SETTINGS OF METRICAL PSALMS.

Royal Appendix 74-76.

Paper. Apparently written about 1547-8, before the first Booke of the Common Prayer, 1549. In many cases the versions of the Psalms followed closely resemble those in the Prymer of 1544. Oblong octavo. Names of former owners and others are:—[John Lumley, Baron] Lumley, i, f. 1; [Henry Fitzalan, 18th Earl of] Arundel, iii, f. 52; Robert Grimes, Thomas Sampson, Christopher Lyllingworth, i, f. 1b; Nicholas Bournes, Richard Oliver, i, f. 84b; and John Hornsaye, ii, f. 35b. The same MSS. also contain a Bass-viol Quintet, Hymns, Lute Music, Madrigals, Services, some String Duets, Trios, Quartets, Quintets, and a Septet, which are described separately.

ANTHEMS AND SERVICES, in parts, in three volumes: Vol. i (ff. 53) containing, unless the contrary is stated, a single triplex part; ii (ff. 36) a contra-tenor part; and iii (ff. 52) a tenor part. The Services are described separately. The Anthems are:—

- | | |
| 1. "Out of the depe." i, f. 4; iii, f. 5. 2. "Prayse y^e Lord, ye servants." i, f. 5; iii, f. 6. 3. "Behold, bretherne, how good." i, f. 5b (beginning only); iii, f. 6b. 4. "Geue sentence with me, O God." i, f. 6 (end only); iii, f. 7b. 5. "O clappe your hands." i, f. 6; iii, f. 8b. 6. "Not vnto vs, O Lord." i, f. 7; ii, f. 1 (end only); iii, f. 9b. 7. "Sawe me, O God." i, f. 9; ii, f. 1b; iii, f. 11. | 8. "I cryde vnto y^e Lorde." i, f. 9b; ii, f. 2; iii, f. 11b. 9. "Remembre not, O Lord." By Tallis. i, f. 13; ii, f. 5b; iii, f. 15. 10. "O Lorde, rebuke me not." i, f. 20b; ii, 20b; iii, f. 28b. 11. "O Lorde Christe Jesu, that art King": a prayer for King Edward [VI]. i, f. 22b (2 triplex parts); ii, f. 22b (2 tenors); iii, f. 30b (2 contra-tenors). 12. "Praysid be God our father." i, f. 24b (2 triplex parts); ii, f. 24b (2 tenors); iii, f. 32 b (2 contra-tenors). |
|---|--|

In vol. i leaves are wanting at the beginning and after ff. 5, 13, and (?) 19.

Additional 15166, ff. 67, 75b–89b.

Paper; after 1567. Oblong octavo. Besides the compositions mentioned below, the MS. contains several Madrigals (q.v.).

TREBLE PART of a collection of Psalms, etc., probably written for 4 voices. Most of them will be described under Hymns (q.v.), but the following partake rather of the nature of Anthems:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. "My soule trulie waiteth still one god." "Bolde." f. 67. 2. Another setting. "[Robert] Hasiltun." f. 67. 3. "Praise we the lord at all tymes." By the same. f. 75b. 4. "Christ our paschall Lambe." "Sheperd." f. 76. 5. "O God, be mercyfull vnto vs." "Doctor Tye." f. 77. 6. "Verelye, verelye, I saie vnto you." "Tallis." f. 78b. 7. "O lorde, geve thy holie sprite." By the same. f. 79. 8. "Teache me thy waye, O lorde, and I will walke." By the same. f. 80. 9. "A newe commaundement geue I vnto you." By the same. f. 80b. | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 10. "Submit yourselues one to another." "Shepards." f. 81b. 11. "Praise the Lorde, O ye servants." "Mondaye." f. 82b. 12. "Behould, it is Christe." By the same. f. 83. 13. "Here the voice and preyer." "Tallis." f. 84. 14. "Blessed are all they that feare the lorde." "Poynte." f. 85. 15. "O happie man, if thou repent." "Jonson." f. 86b. 16. "O Lord of hosts, thou God of Israell." "Dr. Tye." f. 87b. 17. "If ye love me, kepe my commaundements." "Tallys." f. 88. 18. "In trouble and aduersitye." "Taverner." f. 88b. |

Additional 33933, ff. 44b–71b.

Paper; A.D. 1575–8. Octavo. The MS. also contains Hymns, Madrigals, part of a Mass, Motets, part of a Service, and In nomines of the same date, together with Part-songs, Carols, and a Madrigal of the early 17th cent., all of which are separately described.

CONTRA-TENOR PART of the music to certain Psalms, etc., which occur in Thomas Wode's transcripts of the Scottish Metrical Psalter of 1566. For a full account of the MS. and of the other parts see the Catalogue of Additions, 1888–93, the Rev. J. W. Macmeeken's History of the Scottish Metrical Psalms, 1872, etc. Most of the Psalms are set as Hymns, but those in which the parts are apparently independent, and which are sometimes called in the MS. "voluntarie," are here described under Anthems:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. "Ovr Father, whiche in heauen art Lord, halowed be thy name." Anonymous. f. 44b. 2. "Haue mercy, God, for thy great mercies sake." In 4 parts. Two copies, both incomplete at the end. "Andro Kemp." ff. 52, 53. 3. "Of mercye and of iudgement bothe." In 5 parts. "M[r]. A. Blakehall" [1569]. f. 54. | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 4. ["Bles]sed art thou [that] fearis God." Beginning torn off. [In 5 parts]. By the same. f. 60b. 5. "O God abufe, so weil thou hes deuysde." [In 4 parts]. "Shir Jhone Futhy." f. 65. 6. "Judge and reuenge my cause, O lord." In 5 parts. "Blakhall." f. 71b. |

Additional 31992, ff. 5b-53 passim.

Paper; after 1589. Oblong quarto.

ANTHEMS for 5 and 6 voices, by William Byrd and others. In lute notation. See under Lute Music.

Harley 7578, ff. 89-91b, 117.

Paper; temp. Elizabeth. Oblong octavo. For further description of the MS., see under Madrigals.

SINGLE PART of Anthems written at, or near, Durham:—

Royal Appendix 23-25, f. 32b.

Paper; 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The name of Robert Jenner is written at the top of the page in vol. iii. For a further description of the MS., see under Motets.

"LORDE, be my judge" (superius, contra-tenor, and tenor parts). f. 32b. The words occur in the Scottish Psalter of 1566. Anonymous.

Additional 22597, ff. 3-15, 18-21b, 53.

Paper; late 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. also contains many short String Quintets, etc., two Motets and a Carol, in the same hand (see under their respective headings); also a Song in "Don Quixote," by R. Courteville, in a later hand (see under Operas).

TENOR PART of the following Anthems:—

1. "The Lorde blesse vs." "R. White." Attributed by Tudway, in Harley MS. 7389, f. 84b, to Matthew White, who lived temp. Chas. I, but the version used appears to date from about 1548-9, at which time Robert White (d. 1574) was no doubt flourishing. f. 3.
2. "Sanemee, O God, for thy namesake"—the end missing. Anonymous. f. 4.
8. "O consider myne aduersitie"—the beginning lost. "Malorie." f. 6.
4. "Blessed art thou y^e fearest God." "Phillips" (called Philip de Wildre in Add. 30484, f. 4). f. 8.

Additional 30478, 30479.

Paper; A.D. 1664, 1670, etc. Folio. Vol. i (see f. 1) appears to have belonged in 1664 to George Dauenport, chaplain to John Cosin, Bishop of Durham. For the cover of vol. ii, see below; on a fly-leaf is the bookplate of "Mess^r Sharp, London," representing a large organ, "Gran[v]ille Sharp invenit." For further contents, see under Services.

"A Booke of Selected Chvrch-Mvsick Consisting of full Anthems and Anthems with verses Used in the Cathedrall Chvrch of Durham. Anno Domini 1664." Vol. i is so entitled, and contains the tenor Cantoris part. Vol. ii is practically a duplicate, and its cover is stamped with the title, "Anthemes Tenor Cantoris Preb. vii I. B. MDCLXX," the initials no doubt being those of Isaac Basire (d. 1676), Prebendary of the seventh stall in Durham Cathedral. The first 35 anthems in vol. i are printed, and with Nos. 101-114 form Rev. John Barnard's First Book of Selected Church Musick, 1641.

Additional 17784, ff. 2b-83.

Paper; written about 1676, while Henry Compton was Bishop of London (f. 58) and before the death (1678) of George Digby, 2nd Earl of Bristol (f. 94); with additions down to temp. James II. Folio. Ornamented in many places by the Royal Arms, in trick, and by those of Knights of the Garter elected tempp. Charles II. and James II., and of other distinguished persons of the same period. There are also portraits of Charles II. (ff. 3, 72b); rather roughly executed drawings of Biblical subjects (ff. 48b-50, 67-70, 75); globes, etc. (f. 16b); musical instruments (see under Bass-viol, Harps, and Lutes). Apparently written for a member of the Butler family (whose arms are on f. 178b, etc.); belonged afterwards to one of the Achesons of Gosford, whose bookplate is at the beginning. At the end is a collection of Services, for which see under that heading.

Paper; about 1718-1720. Folio. For the rest of the volume in which the MS. is contained, see below, p. 65.

"As paints (sic) the Hart": No. 8 of the Chandos Anthems, by G. F. Handel. Autograph. The vocal parts with a bass for the organ, in score. At the beginning are written, also in Handel's autograph, the names of the singers for whose use this version was apparently made, viz. Hughes, Eilfurt [Elford], Whely, and [Bernard f] Gates. A corner of the last page has been torn off, carrying with it the greater part of the last bar.

This version corresponds with the third of the four published by the Händel-Gesellschaft (vol. xxxiv, p. 277, where it is numbered Anthem 6^c), but is not the same as that published by Arnold as Chandos No. 8. It contains a quartet and chorus "As paints the heart" (sic, f. 17), alto solo "Tears are my dayly Food" (f. 19b), followed by another alto solo "Now when I think thereupon" (f. 20), chorus "In the voice of praise" (f. 21), canto and alto duet "Why so full of grief" (f. 22b), and 5-part chorus "Put thy Trust in God" (f. 23b). At the end (f. 26) is an alternative setting (for bass) of the air "Now when I think thereupon," the same as that included in Anthem 6^c of the above-mentioned collection.

Additional 36268, ff. 53, 51, 68b.

Paper; A.D. 1721. Quarto. On f. 2b is the following note in the hand of [Philip, Baron, afterwards first Earl of,] H[ardwicke]: "May 29th, 1745. This Book was bought at the Sale of the late Earl of Oxford's Library. Note the Chapel at Wimple never was consecrated." For the remainder of the Music written for the same occasion, see under Chants and Services.

Additional 19570.

Paper; ff. 96. A.D. 1757–about 1769. Oblong folio. Bookplate, with arms, of Nares.

"(FIRST Book of) Anthems compos'd for the use of the Kings Chapel by James Nares, from 1757 to (1769 &c.)." The words in brackets appear to have been added by Richard Clark (see f. 1), whose stamp is on f. 2, and in whose hand are various remarks made in Nares' index (f. 2) and in the body of the work. The greater number of the compositions appear to have been contained in the Twenty Anthems, published in 1778, with the exception of six (nos. 1, 5, 8, 14, 15, 18), which are probably among the seven said by Novello, in his edition of the same work, to be "contained in a previous volume." They are all of them verse Anthems, in score, with a figured bass, unless the contrary is stated.

1. "Do well, O Lord." "1757." f. 3.
2. "When the Lord turned again." "1758." f. 6b.
3. "Turn Thee again, O Lord." "1759" (the solo added afterwards). f. 11.
4. "Not unto us, Lord." "A Thanksgiving Anthem, for the taking Montreal and making us Masters of all Canada." "1760." f. 15.
5. "Have mercy upon me, O God." "Compos'd at York and alter'd for the King's Chapel, 1759." f. 20.
6. "The souls of the Righteous." "Factum Windisorio, 1734. Etat. 18." Used afterwards at the King's Chapel, at several royal funerals. f. 23.
7. "Behold, O God, our Defender." "Compos'd for his Majesty's Inauguration Day, 1761." f. 27.
8. "O clap your hands" (full anthem). Composed on the birth of George IV, on 12 Aug. 1762. f. 32.
9. "The Lord is righteous." Composed on the birth of Frederic, Duke of York, in Aug. 1768. f. 36b.

"AWAKE, awake, put on thy strength": verse Anthem for 4 voices, with accompaniment for organ, in score, by William Jackson [of Exeter]. Autograph. At ff. 13 and 16 are two copies of the 1st and 2nd treble parts.

Additional 30392, ff. 19b–78 passim.

Paper; A.D. 1791, 1794. Quarto. At the beginning are diagrams showing the height of the spire of St. Mary's [Oxford], sent to W. Crotch by Mrs. Digby Mackworth. Belonged to the Crotch family until 1877. The MS. also contains Canons (sacred and secular), a sacred Cantata (1790), Chamber music (a Sextet), Chants, a Chorus (1790-1), Organ music (1790-1), Pianoforte music (1795), part of a Service (1790), parts of String Quartets (1790), and parts of Treatises (1794), all described elsewhere.

FRAGMENTS of Anthems, forming part of a sketch-book of compositions by Dr. William Crotch.

1. "How sweet are thy words," for 3 voices. Ten bars only. At the beginning is written "Glee Dr. Harrington—s. h." This composition does not appear in any of the collections of vocal music by Dr. Henry Harrington, of Bath; though some of them contain "glees" with sacred words. The initials s. h. occur again on ff. 40, and 41, and also in combination with Crotch's on f. 22b, apparently during a visit to Bath in the autumn of 1791 (see ff. 20b, 39b, etc.). f. 19b.
2. "God is our hope," for solo voices and 4-part chorus, with a bass for the organ, in score. "May 1st, 1791." The anthem, as far as f. 37, corresponds with the published edition, but the concluding duet and chorus are quite different. f. 30b.
3. Sketch of the anthem "My God, my God, look upon me." "12 March, '94." Afterwards published with no. 2 in Ten Anthems. f. 46b.
4. Sketch of an anthem, "O sing unto the Lord a new song [all the whole earth]," for solo voices and 5-part chorus, with accompaniments for flutes, bassoons and strings, in score. "22nd March, 1794, Oxford." ff. 54b-78.

Additional 27753, f. 3.

Paper; A.D. 1794. Oblong folio. Bequeathed by Sir George T. Smart in 1867. The MS. also contains an Organ Solo and a Service (late 18th cent.) by the same composer, described elsewhere.

"PUT ME not to rebuke": full Anthem for Ash Wednesday, with figured bass, in score. By Dr. T[homas] S[anders] D[upuis]. "Feby, 1794." Autograph.

Additional 32584, ff. 55-102b.

Paper; A.D. 1794-1799. Folio and quarto. The MS. also contains Services, a Duet, and a Song, by the same composer, all described elsewhere.

ANTHEMS by William Jackson [of Exeter]. Autograph. Unless the contrary is stated, they are for solo voice, with 4-part chorus and accompaniment for organ, in score.

Additional 29417-29426.

Paper; 18th cent. Oblong quarto.

TEN of the Chandos Anthems, by Handel. The abbreviations used below refer to the numbers assigned to the Anthems or "Psalmen" in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition of these works, and in that of Dr. Arnold. Any variations from these two editions are indicated. The Chandos "Te Deum" (Add. 29416) is in the same hand. All the Anthems, except where the contrary is stated, are for solo voices and 4-part chorus, with accompaniments for two violins, oboe, double bass and organ, in score.

29417. Vol. i (ff. 27). 1. "I will magnifie thee, O God, my king," with 3-part chorus (Arn. 1; H.-G. v*). The solos which in the Arnold and Händel-Gesellschaft editions precede and follow the tenor air, "The Lord preserveth all them that love him," are omitted.
29418. Vol. ii (ff. 38). 2. "Let God arise," with a part for violoncello and bassoon (Arn. 3, but without the bass air, "Like as the smoke," and the alto air, "Like as wax"; H.-G. xi*).
29419. Vol. iii (ff. 29). 3. "Have mercy upon me, O God," with 3-part chorus (Arn. 4; H.-G. iii).
29420. Vol. iv (ff. 54). 4. "O come, let us sing" (Arn. 5; H.-G. viii).
29421. Vol. v (ff. 24). 5. "O sing unto the Lord," with 3-part chorus, and part for violoncello and bassoon (Arn. 6; H.-G. iv).
29422. Vol. vi (ff. 38). 6. "My song shall be alway" (omitting the trio for treble, tenor, and bass, which is published in Arn. 7 and H.-G. vii).
29423. Vol. vii (ff. 30). 7. "As pants the Heart (sic)," with 3-part chorus and violoncello part (Arn. 8; H.-G. vi*).
29424. Vol. viii (ff. 59). 8. "The Lord is my light" (Arn. 9; H.-G. x).
29425. Vol. ix (ff. 38). 9. "In the Lord put I my trust," with 3-part chorus (Arn. 10; H.-G. ii).
29426. Vol. x (ff. 46). 10. "O praise the Lord with one consent" (Arn. 11; H.-G. ix).

Additional 29998, ff. 29b-51.

Paper; 18th cent. Folio. The MS. belonged to Thomas Barnard, who appears to have been the transcriber. It contains also the later version of Handel's "Te Deum" in B flat (see under Services).

"LET God arise": Anthem for solo voices and 6-part chorus, with accompaniments for two violins, viola, oboe, and bassoon and double bass (violoncello in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition), in full score. Published by Arnold as Chandos Anthem, No. 2, but really an arrangement for the King's Chapel of No. 3 of that series. Anthem XI^b in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition.

Paper; f. 73. 18th cent. Quarto. Belonged to Thomas Clarke. The MS. contains many notes by Rophino Lacy, who declares certain alterations on ff. 6, 24, 25 and 37 to be in the composer's hand.

TWO SETTINGS of the anthem "As pants the hart," in full score, by Handel.

1. For solo voices and 6-part chorus, with symphony and accompaniments for oboe, two violins, viola, violoncello, and organ with double bass in unison, in the hand of J. Christopher Smith, the elder. This arrangement differs from all the four published by the Händel-Gesellschaft, but most nearly resembles those numbered vi^b and vi^d. It consists of a Sinfonia in D minor (f. 8); a quintet (Messrs. Hughs, Bell, Getting, Whely and Baker) with 6-part chorus, "As pants the hart" (f. 6); an alto solo, "Tears are my daly food" (f. 18); a bass solo, "Now when I think thereupon" (f. 15b); "In the voice of praise" for solo voices and 4-part chorus in unison (f. 16b); an alto and tenor duet, "Why so full of grief" (f. 22b); and a bass solo with 4-part chorus, "Put thy trust in God" (f. 26).

2. For solo voices and 3-part chorus, with "sonata" and accompaniments for two violins, oboe, violoncello and bassoon, double bass and organ, being the original setting of Chandos Anthem No. 8 (H.-G. vi^a). f. 32.

Additional 31558.

Paper; ff. 44. 18th cent. Oblong quarto.

"MY SONG shall be alway": Chandos Anthem, in full score, published by Arnold and the Händel-Gesellschaft as No. 7, with this difference, that the trio, "Thou rulest the raging of the sea," is here omitted. At the top of f. 1 is written the name "Green," which has been crossed out, and that of Handel substituted in pencil.

"WHY, O Lord, delay for ever," described by the composer on the title-page as "An Anthem for a Mezzo Soprano Solo with chorus and organ accompaniments, composed for C. B. Broadley, Esquire [the author of the words, which are taken from Psalm 13], by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy. Leipzig, 14 December, 1840." The autograph organ score is followed (f. 9) by an arrangement for an orchestra consisting of 2 flutes, 2 oboes, 2 clarinets, 2 bassoons, 2 horns, a trumpet, drums and strings, in full score. Published posthumously as Op. 96. According to the composer's note [? 5 Jan. 1843] on f. 9, he had not time to go through this copy carefully, but requests Moscheles to do so, and especially to correct any mistakes in the English. On f. 1 is a note relating to the anthem from the librettist to — Goodwin, 15 May, 1848; and on the back of it, a list of the vocal and instrumental parts sent to Miss Dolby.

Paper; ff. 28. Temp. James I. Quarto. Formerly numbered Add. 5341.

THE first lines of the Psalms in the Latin Vulgate version, set as Canons (in 4 parts, unless the contrary is stated) by Sydrach Rahel. From the dedication to James I, in French, it appears that they are intended to be accompanied by the lute, i.e. in unison with the voices. Included also are the "Oratio Dominica," for 5 voices (f. 27b), and "Viuat Jacobus primus," apparently two settings for 2 voices (f. 28). The first lines of all the Canons are given in the Index to the present Catalogue.

Sloane 1021, f. 115.

Paper; about 1640. Small quarto. For a further description of the MS., see under Songs.

Paper; ff. 52. A.D. 1817. Oblong folio.

THE TREBLE part of some Psalms, etc., selected from various Swiss and German collections, by Gian G. Schechi, for the use of Barbla and Chiatrina Secchi of Zutz in the Grisons, in the dialect of which (Ladine) the words are written. Those marked with an asterisk are taken from Selemusic, i.e. Seelen-musik, most of them from the first edition, 1694. Of the composers and compilers referred to below, "Sweling" is Jan Pieterszoon Sweelinck; "Smidlin" or "Smitlin," Johann Schmidlin; "Bachofen," Johann Kaspar Bachofen; "Godau" or "Godeaux," Antoine Godeau; "Broquis," probably Barthold Heinrich Brockes; "Solicofar," Kaspar Zollicofer; "Simler," Johann Wilhelm Simler; "Egli," Johann Heinrich Egli; and "Nägeli," Hans Georg Nägeli, who appears to have been connected, either as contributor or editor, with the collection alluded to below as La Celerine or Cellerina.

Paper; 1806-1852. Oblong quarto and folio. See also under Anthems (above, p. 98), Canons (above, p. 127), Duets (above, p. 177), Services, sacred Songs, sacred Trios, etc.

HYMNS, in score, by Thomas Miles. Autograph. Many of them do not follow strictly the usual form of the English hymn, the parts being sometimes written independently of each other, and occasionally even solo parts being introduced. Most of them are for 4 voices, and without accompaniment; but in many instances the bass-part has been figured.

The words of the Hymns in vols. i and ii are taken from various collections of metrical psalms, etc., including Christian Psalmody [1st edition, 1837], "[Rev. William John] Hall's Ps[alms] and Hy[mns] of the Church" [an early edition of his Psalm and Hymn Tunes], "[Hon. Baptist Wriothsley] Noel's Selection [of Psalms and Hymns], 1838," "[Rev. William] Goode's An Entire New Version of the . . . Psalms, 1811, etc.," and from other works by [Isaac] Watts, Dr. [Philip] Doddridge, Charles and John Wesley, Rev. J[ohn] Newton, [Bishop] Heber, Mrs. [Anne] Steele, [James] Montgomery, etc. Those in vol. iii are taken from James Merrick's metrical version of The Psalms [1766, etc.], and have an accompaniment for organ; those in

vol. iv were "composed [in 1849-1852] to the version of Tate and Brady"; and those in vol. v are taken from various collections, and are mostly undated and accompanied by pianoforte or organ.

Egerton 2512.

Paper; ff. 8. A.D. 1812, etc. Oblong octavo. The MS. appears to have been presented by M. Cooke to J. Stafford Smith, whose name he has written at the beginning.

HYMNS in the hand of Matthew Cooke, "Organist of St. George's Church, Bloomsbury; and formerly one of the children of His Majesty's Chapel Royal." The names of the tunes are added in brackets. Nos. 1-6 are chorales adapted by Cooke from "The Disciples at Emmaus," by Michael Christian Bach, and are written in compressed score with a figured bass; nos. 7-12 consist only of the melody with a figured bass.

"THE WHOLE psalmes in four partes, whiche may be song to al musically instrumentes Imprinted at London by John Day 1563. Scored by Joseph Warren [from the original parts at Brasenose College]." For a further account of the work, see the preface at the beginning of the present MS. and Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians, vol. iv, pp. 757-759. In spite of the title, not half of the 150 psalms are included, and there is a large amount of extraneous matter. The parts do not always move together, as is usually the case with the hymns of the Anglican church, and some of the compositions have been described under Anthems (see above, p. 112). The organ part appears to be merely a compressed score of the vocal parts. Only the first verses of the psalms, etc., are set to music.

SECTION XVI.—MIRACLE-PLAYS,

INCLUDING MORALITIES, MYSTERIES, PASSION-PLAYS, ETC.

Cotton, Vespasian D. vi, f. 77b.

Vellum; 11th cent. $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in. The MS. belonged to St. Augustine's Abbey, Canterbury.

DIALOGUE between the Chorus and Cantor, beginning with the words "Venite, filii eue, uenite ad filium Marie." With neums. The Chorus is represented as demanding why the Saviour hangs on a malefactor's cross. Having heard the Cantor's explanation of the reason, they break out into a song of praise "Aue, rex noster," etc.

The dialogue immediately follows some short extracts from the Gradual, which have been added to a miscellaneous collection of theological and moral tracts written in the Anglo-Saxon character about the 10th cent.

Additional 36881.

Vellum; ff. 28. 12th cent. $6\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{4}$ in.

COLLECTION of Sequences, Tropes, and other Cantiones, with music, many of them having two or three verses set, like hymns, to the same music, which is, unless where the contrary is stated, in two parts, written on 4 lines scratched on the vellum, but not coloured, and preceded by the C, F, and G signatures. They appear to be arranged in series; and the harmonized ones, at least, were probably intended for performance at Christmas and other feasts in the so-called Mysteries (see below). The pieces marked with an asterisk occur also in the 12th cent. MS. Fonds lat. 292 (formerly 3719) in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris.

The first series (nos. 1–15) refers to the Nativity, with which the cult of St. Nicholas is apparently combined (see no. 13):—

Published by Dreves, xx, p. 110, from a Mosbach Gradual of 1360; he gives (p. 254) the musical notes also, which are very similar to the lower part of the present setting. f. 13b. 17. Unharmonized tropes to the "Sanctus," including one, "Sanctus Fons uiuus," printed by Gautier (p. 168). f. 14. |
|--|--|

The four following (also unharmonized) are closely connected with the preceding number and are in honour of the Virgin and (no. 19) St. John the Baptist:—

- | | |
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 18. "Clangat hodie uox nostra melodum." f. 15. 19. "Sollemptia presentia con (sic) nimia leticia ecclesia extollat precursoris." f. 15b. 20. |---|--|

Here there is a gap of at least eight leaves. Of the following six numbers, the first and the last four seem to refer to the Feast of the Annunciation (25 March) rather than to the Nativity:—

- | | |
| 22. A sequence of which the beginning is lost. The first verse preserved in its entirety begins "Hanc prophete priscis a seculis signauere." f. 17. 23. "Oriente oriens stella noua claruit . . . balaam presagens ut olim edocuit" (Epiphany). f. 17b. 24. "Delictis hominis subintrat uirginem . . . regis potencia." f. 18b. 25. "De monte lapis scinditur" (different from the one beginning with the same words in the Bibliotheca | Laurenziana at Florence, Plut. xxix, cod. i, f. 204). f. 19b. 26. "Chorus noster recolat sancti uiri [? St. Nicholas] festum," with a verse "Quam felix cubiculum," referring to the Annunciation. f. 20b. 27. "Res iocosa quod hec rosa sine succo floruit"; followed by a musical setting of the words "Ora pro nobis, beate Nicolae." f. 21b. 28. "Ad honorem sempiterni regis" (Pentecost?). f. 22b. |

The remaining pieces are unharmonized. Between nos. 29 and 30 are "Letetur orbis," with the refrain "fulget dies ista" (Pentecost), and "Dum annua recolitur dies redemptionis," without music (ff. 23, 23b).

- | | |
|---|---|
| 29. "Regi nato gloria" (Holy Innocents). f. 23. 30. "Gaudet chorus celestis hodie nobis Christo nato de uirgine," with a reference to the visit of the Magi. f. 23b. 31. "Benedicamus. Angelus sedens ad | sepulcrum": Easter trope to the "Benedicamus" (Gautier, p. 172). f. 24. 32. "Eya, pueri, uoce precelsa benedicamus regi magno olim nato domino." f. 24. |

Some charms are inserted on the next page, and then follows in a different hand and on smaller leaves:—

- | | |
| 33. "Planctus ante nescia planctu lassor anxia," known as the "Planctus Mariæ," and as such introduced | in Passion-plays (published by Du Ménil, Origines Latines, p. 143). f. 25. |

Additional 23922, ff. 8b-11.

Vellum; 12th-13th cent. $5\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in. For a further description of the MS., see Catalogue of Additions, 1882-1887.

MIRACLE-PLAY of "The Three Kings," or "The Adoration of the Magi," introduced in an Office for the Octave of the Epiphany, which forms part of a Processional written for Strassburg Cathedral. It begins abruptly—without any heading—after the "Magnificat," with the words "Stella fulgore nimio rutilat," assigned to one of the Magi. The other characters are the other two Magi, the King (Herod), a Messenger, an Armour-bearer, Scribes, a Chorus, Shepherds, Midwives, and an Angel. The Play ends where the Armour-bearer announces to Herod that the Magi have deceived him and gone home another way, the King thereupon exclaiming, "Incendium meum ruina extinguiam." These words are immediately followed by the Office for S. Hilary's day.

The Play has a considerable resemblance to the one in the Orleans

Library (no. 178), though the latter begins differently—with the appearance of the Angel and the heavenly hosts to the Shepherds. The MS. in the Bibliothèque Nationale (no. 904) commences in the same way as the present MS., but has otherwise very little in common with it (see Coussemaker's Drames Liturgiques, pp. 143, 243).

The greater part of the text is accompanied by musical notes or neums of the early Gothic form.

Harley 978, ff. 2–4b.

Vellum; after 1226. $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5$ in. For a further description of the MS., see under Catches.

“SAMSON, dux fortissime”: chiefly a monologue, with a few words put into the mouth of Dalilah and another. The musical notes, with which the text is accompanied throughout, are square and diamond-shaped, on a stave of 5 red lines, with the C signature.

Egerton 2615, ff. 1–108.

Vellum; about 1227–1284. $8\frac{3}{4} \times 5$ in. For a further description of the MS., see Catalogue of Additions, 1882–1887.

1. OFFICE for the Circumcision, commonly known as the Fête des Fous, containing the celebrated Prose de l'Âne, “Orientis partibus aduentavit asinus,” with musical notes throughout, those to the above prose being given in plainsong (f. 1) and in a 3-part setting (f. 43). f. 1.

2. “Danielis Ludus,” beginning with the short prologue, “Ad honorem tui, Christe, Danielis ludus iste. In Beluaco [Beauvais] est inuentus Et inuenit hunc iuuentus,” followed by the prose “Astra tenenti cunctipotenti turba uirilis et puerilis contio plaudit.” The principal characters represented are King Belshazzar and his princes and satraps, magicians, the Queen, King Darius and his princes and musicians (cythariste), and Daniel. The choruses which introduce the leading characters—somewhat resembling the ancient Greek choruses—are called “conductus,” but it does not appear whether they were intended to be sung in harmony or with instrumental accompaniments. In the chorus of princes, “Vir propheta Dei Daniel” (f. 98b), there is a mixture of Latin and French. f. 95.

The text is accompanied throughout by quasi-square and diamond-shaped notes on a stave of 4 red lines, with the F, C, and G signatures.

Additional 15102, ff. 207–221.

Paper; A.D. 1487. $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in. The principal contents of the MS. are the Life and Epistles of St. Hildegard. It belonged to the monastery of S. Jacobus Scotorum at Würzburg, and later to that of Lamspringe, Hanover.

“ORDO Virtutum de patriarchis et prophetis”; written in long lines, with red initials, by order of the Abbot of Spanheim, from a MS. said to be in the autograph of St. Hildegard, Abbess of St. Rupert's at Bingen (f. 1163). Begins with the words "Qvi sunt hi." The characters represented are "Patriarche et Prophete," "Virtutes," "Anima," "Scientia Dei," "Streptus Diaboli," "Humilitas," "Karitas," "Timor Dei," "Diabolus," "Obediencia," "Fides," "Spes," "Castitas," "Innocencia," "Contemptus Mundi," "Amor celestis," "Verecundia," "Misericordia," "Victoria," "Discretio," "Patientia," etc.

The notes used are of the Gothic form on a stave of 5 lines, of which the F and sometimes also the C line are coloured red.

Additional 35290, ff. 234-241b.

Vellum; late 15th cent. 11 × 8 in. For an analysis of the contents of the MS. in the hand of Joseph Hunter, see Add. 24480, ff. 159-161b.

"THE WEEFFERES," i.e. Weavers, being no. 46 of a series of mystery plays performed by the crafts of York on Corpus Christi Day. The principal characters are thirteen Angels, the Virgin, and the five leading Disciples.

Music for 2 voices, in quasi-score, is given to the words "Surge, propera, Columba mea" (f. 235b), "Veni de libano, sponsa" (f. 236), and "Veni, electa mea" (f. 238); and at ff. 241, 241b, there are alternative settings of the two former, in parts. The notes, black and occasionally red, are either diamond-shaped or square in form, written on a stave of 5 red lines.

Harley 2124.

Paper; f. 144. A.D. 1607. Small folio.

THE CHESTER Mysteries, divided into 24 pageants, with directions for their acting by the guilds of that city, copied by James Miller, in July and August, 1607. The 7th pageant, "De pastoribus gregem pascentibus," assigned to the Painters and Glaziers, contains a few notes of music to the "Gloria in excelsis Deo," expressed by quasi-diamond-shaped notes on a stave of 4 red lines, with the F signature.

The Chester Mysteries are supposed to have originated with Sir John Arnway, whose mayoralty is given in Harl. 2013, f. 1*, as occurring in A.D. 1327, 1328.

Additional 27945, f. 51b.

Paper; late 18th cent. Narrow oblong duodecimo.

THE CHESTER Mysteries: another copy transcribed by George Steevens from George Bellin's MS., dated 1600 (Harl. 2013), itself a copy of the latter's earlier MS. (Add. 10305), which is dated 1592. The musical notes to the "Gloria" do not occur in Bellin's MSS., but have been supplied from Harley 2124, above.

SECTION XVIII.—MOTETS,

INCLUDING, BESIDES MOTETS PROPERLY SO-CALLED, SOME OTHER COMPOSITIONS FOR TWO OR MORE VOICES WITH SACRED LATIN WORDS WHICH IT HAS BEEN FOUND DIFFICULT TO ASSIGN TO ANY OTHER CLASS.

Burney 357, ff. 15b, 16.

Vellum; 12th–18th cent. Octavo. The complete MS. contains a miscellaneous collection of short theological and other pieces. It belonged to Thame Abbey, and afterwards to William Forrest.

SEQUENCE, "Amor Patris et Filii," apparently for Whit-Sunday; followed by a "Benedicamus Domino." It is set for 2 voices, the music being expressed by roughly written square and diamond-shaped notes on a double stave of 8 lines with the C signature.

Cotton, Titus A. xxi, f. 90b.

Vellum; early 13th cent. Octavo. At the end of a MS. containing a Virginal and part of a Psalter in a 12th–13th cent. hand.

SEQUENCE, "Virtute numinis, non natura dei et hominis, mater pura"; for 3 voices, written in England. Square and diamond-shaped notes, with the C and C B⁷ signatures, on a triple stave of 4 lines each, with quasi-bars.

Harley 978, ff. 8b, 9b, 11b.

Vellum; after 1226. Octavo. See also under Catches.

MOTETS, written at Reading Abbey, in square and diamond-shaped notes, with the C, C B \flat , and F signatures. At the end are some lists of Motets.

Egerton 2615, ff. 43, 69-94.

Vellum; about 1227-1234. Octavo. See also the Catalogue of Additions, 1882-1887.

MOTETS, in score, introduced in an Office for the Circumcision—the Fête des Fous—at Beauvais. They are, unless the contrary is stated, for 3 voices. The notes which accompany the text throughout are quasi-square on staves of 4 red lines, of which that for the lowest voice is occasionally placed below the text. There are others without words at ff. 74, 76.

Additional 30091, ff. 1-7 passim.

Vellum; 13th cent. Duodecimo. The MS. also contains two secular compositions (see under Duets).

MOTETS, mostly in praise of the Virgin, written in France in long lines with alternate blue and red initials. Only 2 parts are given, the 2nd (or ground bass) being generally sung to different words. The notes are written on a 4-line stave.

The words of nos. 3 and 6 appear to be by Philippe de Grève (see Eg. 274, ff. 3, 54b, 56b, described below).

- | | |

| 6. "In omni fratre tuo non habees fidutiam." By H. de Pisis (?). f. 4b. | 12. "Eva, quid deciperis." f. 7b. |

Each motet is accompanied by musical notes and has what appears to be a pes or burden, in which the same melody is generally repeated twice, and in one instance five times, to words which have no connection with the text, but are probably those of well-known songs.

Egerton 274, ff. 7b, 43–56b passim.

Vellum; late 13th cent. Duodecimo. See also under sacred Songs.

Six of the "Dicta magistri Ph. (sc. Philippe de Grève), quondam Cancellarij Parisiensis," set for 2 voices. The music is probably by Henricus de Pisis. In nos. 2–6 the 2nd part consists of a bass added at the end of each.

Paper; 13th–14th cent. Octavo.

HYMN, "Veri floris sub figura"; for two voices, written in England, with black notes on 2 staves of 4 red lines each. Divided into bars of irregular length by a rather later hand. Preceded by an incomplete sermon De institutione Misse in a late 13th cent. hand, and followed by a Commemoracio de Trinitate in an early 14th cent. hand, with neither of which it appears to have any connection.

Additional 25031, ff. 1–4b.

Vellum; 13th–14th cent. Octavo. Fly-leaves of a MS. containing medical treatises, etc., and apparently connected [in 1850] with Worcester (see f. 9).

MOTETS, written in England, in long lines with large initials. Imperfect. Square and diamond-shaped notes on a stave of 5 red lines, with the C signature.

Royal Appendix 23-25, passim.

Paper; 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. appears to have belonged to — Crouder of Crouder's Hill (vol. iii, f. 43), and afterwards to [John, 6th Baron]

Lumley (d. 1609). It also contains an Anthem (above, p. 4), a Carol (p. 141), a Miserere (p. 244), Madrigals, etc.

SUPERIUS, contra-tenor, and tenor parts of a collection of Motets, etc., made, if not composed, by Dyricke Gerarde, whose name occurs (in that form) at the end of vol. i, and the beginning of vol. ii. The folios are the same in each volume, unless the contrary is stated.

Paper; 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. also contains a Carol (above, p. 141), Madrigals and a secular Motet.

MOTETS for several voices, in parts, apparently all by Derick Gerarde, though only nos. 4 and 5 have his name or initials (autograph?) appended. The name is given as Dyricke Gerard at the end of each volume by [John, 6th Baron] Lumley [d. 1609], a rather later owner. Unless the contrary is stated, they are for 5 voices, and the folios are the same in each volume. The five volumes contain respectively superius (and 2nd bassus), contra-tenor (and medius), tenor (and sextus), bassus (and 2nd superius), and quintus (and 2nd superius).

Royal Appendix 31-35, passim.

Paper; 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. belonged to [Henry Fitzalan, 18th Earl of] Arundel (d. 1580). It also contains Carols (above, p. 142), Graces (p. 177), Madrigals and secular Motets.

MOTETS for 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 voices, in parts, apparently all by Derick Gerarde, though his initials are only appended to a few of them. The MS. certainly belonged to him (see vol. i, f. 1, etc.); and, though the words of most of the pieces have been set to music by many of the French and Flemish composers of the second quarter of the 16th century, none of the present settings have been found among their works. In vol. iii, f. 67b, occur the two following inscriptions:—(1) "John Theodoricus [s Gerarde?]," and (2) "finis q^d master Redford." [John?] Redford, though apparently a contemporary of Derick Gerarde, could hardly have been the composer of the works in this MS., as some of them are evidently autograph and in a hand quite different from Redford's (cf. Add. 29996, passim); moreover, the only composition to English words would appear to be set by a foreigner (see vols. i-iii of the present MS., f. 27b). The five volumes contain respectively the cantus, altus, tenor, bassus, and quintus (with sextus also generally, where there are 6 or more parts). The other extra parts (2nd cantus, 2nd bassus, etc.) are scattered over the first three volumes. Except where the contrary is stated, nos. 1-19 are for 5 voices; nos. 20-24 are for 6 voices; nos. 26-29 for 4 voices; and nos. 30-32 for 8 voices.

10. "Versa est in luctum"; in two parts. By the same. i, ii, v, ff. 19b, 20; iii, ff. 20, 20b; iv, ff. 19, 20b; vi, ff. 19, 19b.
11. "Letare, Jerusalem." Anonymous. i, ii, v, f. 28; iii, f. 23b; iv, vi, f. 22b.
12. "Deus, qui superbis" (à 7). "Dericke Gerarde." i-iii, v, f. 23b; iv, vi, f. 23.

Royal Appendix 57, ff. 1b, 4b.

Paper; 16th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. also contains some Madrigals.

BASS PART of two Motets.

1. "Jesu, corona virginum"; with second part, "Quoquunque (sic) pergis"; and fourth part, "Laus, honor, virtus" (à 6). "Orlando di Lassus." ff. 1b-4.
2. "Vrbs beata, Jherusalem"; with second part, "Noua veniens e celo" (à 6); fourth part, "Tonsionibus pressuris" (à 6); and fifth part, "Gloria et honor" (à 7, including a tenor part, inserted at f. 7b). "Theodoricus Gerardi." ff. 4b-8b.

Additional 17001, f. 175b.

Vellum; 16th cent. Large folio.

"DEO gratias," for 3 voices. Inserted at the end of a Sarum gradual, written about 1440. Anonymous. The parts are written one above the other on staves of 5 lines, but not scored.

Royal Appendix 12-15, passim.

Paper; late 16th cent. Quarto.

THREE Antiphons to the "Benedictus," added at the end of each of the Lamentations (see above, p. 197) for the last three days in Holy Week. For 4 voices, in parts.

1. "Traditor autem dedit eis signum." i, f. 4b; ii, iii, f. 5; iv, f. 10.
2. "Posuerunt super caput eius causam ipsius." i, ii, f. 8b; iii, f. 9b; iv, f. 10.
3. "Mulieres sedentes ad monumentum." i, f. 18; ii, f. 12b; iii, f. 14b; iv, f. 10.

Additional 17802-17805, passim.

Paper; late 16th cent. Octavo. The MS. appears to have belonged at an early period to Dr. Philip Gyffard (see ii, ff. 112, 248). It also contains a Carol (above, p. 142), Masses (p. 218), Passion Music, and a Te Deum.

COLLECTION of Motets, etc., all of which appear to be for 4 voices, by English composers, most of whom flourished about 1554-1565, which latter is the probable date of the first parts of the volumes. The second parts may have been written a few years later, including as they do at least one composition by John Munday, who is not known to have flourished before 1585.

1. "Asparges (sic) me, Domine." Anonymous. i, f. 5b; ii, iii, iv, f. 4.

Additional 34000-34002, passim.

Paper; early 17th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. appears to have belonged to Thomas Oliphant and John Hullah. It also contains Carols (above, p. 143), Lamentations (p. 197), Masses (p. 214), and secular Motets.

FIRST and second cantus and tenor parts of a collection of Motets, Masses, etc., probably by a composer, or composers, of the last quarter of the 16th cent. One of the pieces (vols. ii, iii, f. 17b) is addressed to Albert [III], Duke of Bavaria (d. 1579); another (vols. ii, iii, f. 18b) to one of the Fuggers [of Augsburg], evidently the secular Motet by Giovanni Gabrieli alluded to in Grove's Dictionary (i, p. 572) as included in Gabrieli's Sacræ Symphoniæ, part i, 1597. Two or three of the Motets enumerated below were certainly composed by G. Gabrieli, and others have a considerable resemblance to compositions by his father, Andrea Gabrieli.

The sacred Motets include the following, of which nos. 1-10, 13-24, are for 8 voices, only the cantus part (vol. i) being left of the latter group.

1. "Beata es, Virgo Maria." i-iii, f. 2.
2. "[Salve,] Regina, mater misericordie." i-iii, f. 2b.
3. "Domine, Dominus [noster]." By G. Gabrieli, 1597. i, f. 8b; ii, iii, f. 6b.
4. "Deus noster, Refugium." i, f. 4b; ii, iii, f. 22b.
5. "Ecce, tu pulchra." i, f. 5b; ii, iii, f. 34b.
6. "Paratum cor." i, f. 6b; ii, iii, f. 4b.
7. "Aue, stella matutina." i, f. 7b; ii, iii, f. 5b.
8. "Ecce, dominus veniet"; with second part, "Et regnabit." i, ff. 12b, 13b; ii, iii, ff. 11b, 12b.
9. "Gaudeamus." i, f. 17b; ii, iii, f. 32b.
10. "Jam non dicam vos servos." i, f. 19b.
11. "Decantabat populus" (à 7). i, f. 20b.
12. "Maria Magdalena" (à 7). i, f. 21b.
13. "Aue, Regina Cœlorum"; with second part, "Gaude, Gloriosa." ff. 26, 26b.
14. "Pater, peccavi"; with second part, "Quanti mercenarii." ff. 27b, 28b.
15. "Andreas, Christi famulus"; with second part, "Dilexit Andream." ff. 29b, 30b.
16. "Tulerunt Dominum meum"; with second part, "Cum ergo fieret." ff. 32b, 33b.
17. "Aue, Maria." f. 34b.
18. "Alma Redemptoris Mater"; with second part, "Tu, quæ genuisti." ff. 35b, 36b.
19. "Quomodo cantabimus"; with second part, "Si non proposuero." ff. 37b, 38b.
20. "Misericordias Domini." f. 39b.
21. "Peccantem me quotidie." f. 40b.
22. "O Domine, Jesu Christe." f. 41b.
23. "Jubilare Deo." f. 42b.
24. "Salve, Regina"; with third part, "Ad te clamamus"; fifth part, "Eia ergo Aduocata"; sixth part, "Et Jesum benedictum"; and seventh part, "O clemens, O pia." (Different from nos. 2 and 89.) ff. 43b-46b.

The following are contained in vols. ii and iii only, in which the number of voices is not indicated:—

25. "Sic deus dilexit mundum." f. 3b.
26. "Sancta et immaculata." f. 7b.
27. "Laudans exultet gaudio." f. 16b.
28. "Te Deum patrem ingenitum." f. 19b.
29. "Deus, deus meus, respice in me." f. 20b.
30. "Ite in vniversum mundum." f. 21b.
31. "Gabriel angelus." f. 23b.
32. "Jesu, dulcis memoria." f. 24b.
33. "O Jesu mi." By G. Gabrieli, 1597. f. 26.
34. "Incipite Domino in tympanis." f. 28b.
35. "Victimæ [paschali]." f. 29b.
36. "Deus, Canticum nouum cantabo tibi." f. 31b.
37. "Hic est vere martir"; with second part, "Iustum deduxit." ff. 35b, 36.
38. "Exiui a patre." f. 36b.
39. "[Salve,] Regina, mater misericordie." (Different from nos. 2 and 24.) f. 38b.
40. "Apparuerunt apostolis." f. 40b.

Additional 34049, passim.

Paper; early 17th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. also contains a Mass (above, p. 214) and some In-nomines (see under String Quintets).

CANTUS part of a collection of Motets, etc., mostly in honour of the Virgin. All the compositions are anonymous; from the character of those which have been identified, it appears probable that they were all written for 5 voices.

1. "Et exultavit." In 2 keys. This does not appear to be a setting of the entire "Magnificat." ff. 1, 23b.
2. "Ave, dei patris filia." By Robert Johnson. f. 2.
3. Another setting of the same words. f. 6b.
4. "Tui filij"; followed by "Dominus tecum," "Mater intacta," and "Esto nobis," which probably form part of the same Motet. f. 9b.
5. "Per pregustum." f. 11b.
6. "Maria stella, tuo natus" (sic); with "Gratia plena," and "O quam dulcis." f. 12b.
7. "Sospitati olei"; "Baptizatur"; "O quam probatum"; "Ergo Laudes"; "Nam qui [in] corde" (without music); and "Sospes." By John Taverner, Sen. (?). f. 14.
8. "Peccatum peccavit Jerusalem." By R. White (?). f. 17.
9. "O gloriosissima semper Virgo." f. 17b.
10. "Gaude plurimum" (without music); "Gaude, Maria"; "Gaude, sacratissima virgo"; "Gaude, Maria, Jesu mater"; "Gaudeamus Itaque"; and "Eundum igitur Jesum." By J. Taverner (?). f. 18.
11. "Ave, Jesu Tui filii dulcis filia christi"; and "O gloriosissima semper Virgo." ff. 22b-23.
12. "Domine, Labia." f. 25.
13. "Salve, intemerata" (without music); "Ave, mulieris (sic) sanctissima"; "Et dum eum conciperes"; "Tu nimirum" (without music); "Per hæc nos"; "Te præcamur" (sic); and "Secundum humanitatem." By Tallis. f. 38.
14. "Mater christi sanctissima"; "Ergo, fili"; "... Tibi consecratos"; "Quin et nostros"; "Dona nobis?"; "Euge, celi"; and a piece without title. f. 39b.
15. "O salutaris hostia." By Tallis. f. 43b.
16. "Domine, quis hab[ita]bit[ur]." f. 44b.
17. "Quia fecit." f. 45.
18. "Beata es, Virgo Maria." f. 48b.

Additional 17797, ff. 2b, 20b, 38b, 56b, 74b.

Paper; after 1600. Small oblong quarto. See also under Anthems (above, p. 7).

"CANTATE Domino canticum novum"; for 5 voices, in parts. Probably by Richard Nicholson, the composer of most of the pieces in the volume.

Additional 34050, ff. 14b, 17b.

Paper; after 1604. Oblong octavo. See also under Madrigals.

TENOR part of two anonymous compositions inserted in a collection of Madrigals by Italian and English composers of the end of the 16th cent. Probably for 5 voices.

1. "Laudate Dominum." f. 14b.
2. "Venite, filij." f. 17b.

Additional 36494, ff. 7-56b passim.

Paper; after 1604. Small oblong folio. See also under Madrigals.

BASS part of some Latin sacred compositions, a few of which appear to have originally formed part of Masses. Unless the contrary is stated, they are for 4 voices. The names of the composers are not given. Possibly some of the works are by the original owner—and probable transcriber—David Melville.

Additional 31475, ff. 39-56b.

Paper; A.D. 1686. Quarto. The MS. belonged to Joseph Warren. It also contains some Motets of the early 18th cent. (below, p. 295).

"VICTIMÆ Paschali"; for 8 voices, with a figured bass, in score, written by G[iovanni] P[aolo] C[olon]na for the church of S. Petronio [at Bologna] in 1686. Autograph.

Additional 24309, ff. 23–57.

Paper; A.D. 1698. Small folio. The MS. belonged to Edmund Thomas Warren Horne (bookplate) and to Charles Hatchett (see f. 2b). It also contains two sacred Songs (17th–18th cent.).

"DIXIT Dominus," with "Gloria Patri" (the "Amen" to which is omitted); for 5 voices with symphonies, ritournelles, and accompaniments, for strings, and a figured bass for organ, in score, by Giovanni Paolo Colonna, 1698. Autograph.

Additional 31474, ff. 39–63b.

Paper; A.D. 1698 (?). Small oblong folio. See also under Magnificat (above, p. 208).

"LIBRO spartito di Motetti A Dve et A Trè Voci, di Gio. Paolo Colonna, organista in San Petronio, di Bologna." The opus number has been crossed out, but appears to be 3, which corresponds with the one given by Fétis. The latter, however, gives the date as 1698, while the present MS. is dated 1681, the date of op. 1. The following are for 2 voices with a figured bass for harpsichord or organ. They were written for certain Saints' days. Nos. 1–3 are evidently autograph, the composer's initials being inscribed at the top of f. 40.

Additional 31899.

Paper; ff. 9. 18th-19th cent. Oblong folio.

"CUM sancto spiritu in gloria Dei Patris. Amen"; for 4 voices, with accompaniments for oboes, horns, and strings, in score, by — Buonarie. Possibly part of a Mass in G.

Additional 32237, f. 68.

Paper; 18th-19th cent. Oblong folio. See also under Operas (about 1797-1828).

FRAGMENT, apparently of a Motet with instrumental accompaniment, containing the words . . . "in corde nostro tu inspira." In the hand, and apparently the composition, of J. N. Hummel.

Additional 32429, ff. 9-101 passim.

Paper; 18th-19th cent. Oblong duodecimo. The MS. also contains sacred Choruses (above, p. 165), settings of the Miserere (p. 250), a Te Deum, etc.

MOTETS, in parts, written in Italy, most of them by anonymous composers. Unless the contrary is stated, only the bass part is given. Most of them end with the "Gloria Patri."

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. End of a "Benedictus" (1st tenor). f. 9. 2. "Laudate, pueri"; in F (1st and 2nd tenor). Described as "della Rossa." ff. 9, 11. 3. "Gloria Patri"; in F. f. 14. 4. "Laudate, pueri"; in F (bass and 1st tenor). ff. 14b, 40. 5. "Pange, lingua" (contralto, 2 tenors, and bass). Described as "della Volata." ff. 16b, 52, 54, 56. 6. | 15. "Domine, probasti me." f. 82. | 21. "Tantum ergo." f. 90b. |
| 16-19. "Litanie del Ghida (sic)," beginning "Mater cristi, mater divine gratie." Four settings, two of which are apparently by Giuseppe Pai (see | 22. "Jesu, Redemptor omnium." Duplicate parts. ff. 95, 96. |
| | 23. "Laudate, pueri"; in D. f. 97. |
| | 24. ["Mater christi, mater divine gratie"] (cf. nos. 16-19). f. 101. |

The names "della Rossa," "della Volata," etc., are suggestive of the collections of Motets which appeared in the first half of the 16th century.

Additional 32432, ff. 28-43, 63.

Paper; 18th-19th cent. Oblong folio. See also under Stabat Mater.

SACRED Latin compositions, in score. Nos. 1-7 are "Inni e Benedizioni," with a figured bass for organ, by Padre [G. B.] Martini, "M. di Cap[pella] a Bologna." They are in a German hand, and for 3 voices, unless the contrary is stated.

| 5. "O Sacrum convivium" (2 voices). f. 38b. | |

Egerton 2450, ff. 1-40, 124-150b.

Paper; early 19th cent. Oblong octavo. The MS. also contains a sacred Cantata (above, p. 135), Lamentations (p. 199), and settings of the Miserere (p. 250).

COLLECTION of Motets, in score, which belonged to the Rev. Edward Goddard. They are, with one exception, unaccompanied, and (unless the contrary is stated) for 4 voices. Nos. 1-11 are "Antifone e Responsori à 4 e à 5 voci... di Tomaso Baij." The "Lamentazione" at f. 40b, which, as well as the above, is here said to be by the same composer, is attributed in Add. 24291, f. 1, to Gregorio Allegri. If that assumption be correct, it is possible therefore that the Antiphons, etc., may also be the latter's composition.

Additional 36490.

Paper; ff. 49. A.D. 1892. Quarto. Presented by the transcriber in 1900.

THIRTY-THREE motets, in parts, most of them complete, by [John] Dunstaple (i.e. Dunstable), transcribed (with the exception of the last) in April, 1892, from MS. VI. H. 5 in the Biblioteca Estense at Modena, and in several cases collated with copies of others in the Liceo Comunale at Bologna and the Imperial Library at Vienna (formerly in the Capitular archives at Trent), by W. Barclay Squire.

The Motets are preceded (ff. 2-5) by an Introductory Note by the transcriber, and are followed (ff. 45, 45b) by a thematic catalogue of motets by other contemporary English composers whose works are contained in the Modenese MS., and (f. 48) by an article on the present MS. contributed by Mr. Squire to the Times of 21 Feb. 1893.

Except where the contrary is stated, the motets are for 3 voices (cantus, tenor and contra-tenor). The tenor usually consists of the plainsong, which appears to be used as a ground-tenor.

"IL PIANTO e il Riso delle Quattro Stagioni dell' Anno per la Morte, Esaltazione, e Coronazione di Maria sempre Vergine Assunta in Cielo": Oratorio in two parts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for strings and harpsichord, in score, by Benedetto Marcello, 1731. Autograph. The name of the librettist (now obliterated) appears to have been Giulio Vitelleschi, a Jesuit. The characters are the Four Seasons.

Additional 31870.

Paper; ff. 126. About 1738 (date of composition). Large folio.

"DEBORAH": Oratorio in three parts, for solo voices and 8-part chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, horns, flutes, oboes, bassoons, drums, strings, organ, and harpsichord, in score, by George Frederic Handel. It is said to be transcribed by [John] Christopher Smith, the elder, and is evidently taken from the original score before the revival of the work in 1744, in which year certain alterations (noted in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition) were made. The present copy closely corresponds with the same edition, but omits the overture and the 1744 additions and the four choruses borrowed from the Coronation Anthems. The names of three of the original singers, — Senesino, [Anna] Strada [del Pò] and — Montagnana, are given at ff. 26b, 27.

Additional 34006.

Paper; ff. 163. About 1733 (date of composition). Large folio. Bookplate with arms of Thomas Chilcot, organist of Bath, 1757.

THE SAME WORK, in score, by Handel, transcribed by [John Christopher] Smith from the original. It corresponds very closely with the preceding MS., which appears to be in the same hand, the only variation of importance being that the present MS. contains the four choruses borrowed from the Coronation Anthems, which are omitted in the other.

Additional 31489, f. 54b.

Paper; after 1733 (date of composition). Oblong folio. See also below, under Songs (18th cent.).

"CEASE thy anguish"; with a figured bass for harpsichord, in score, being the first portion of the duet in "Athaliah," by Handel, transposed from the original key.

Kings 317, ff. 33–37.

Paper; A.D. 1735. Quarto. See also under Organ Concertos.

AN "ALLELUJAH" chorus tacked on by Handel at the end of his organ concerto in F (op. 4)—upon a theme in which it is founded—and performed along with the concerto at the end of the oratorio, "Il trionfo del tempo e della verità" (composed in 1708), on the occasion of its revival in 1737 (see Add. 31568, below). Holograph. Signed "G. F. H., March 25. 1735."

Additional 31568.

Paper; ff. 131. About 1787 (see below). Oblong folio. For a further description of the MS., see the Catalogue of Additions, 1876–1881.

["IL TRIONFO] del Tempo e della Verità": Oratorio in three parts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, horns, trumpets, drums, strings and organ, in score, by Handel. The words (as far as they go) and a considerable portion of the music are the same as those in the 1708 version. The numbers written for the present version [1737], but not incorporated in the English work of 1757, are printed at the end of vol. xxiv of the Händel-Gesellschaft's publications, with the exception of the sinfonia at the beginning of part ii, the air "Folle dunque tu sola presumi" in part ii, and some of the recitatives. The first 93 folios appear to be in the hand of John Christopher Smith. In some numbers the words used in the English work are inserted over the Italian text.

Additional 5319.

Paper; ff. 131. About 1738 (date of composition). Large folio. Belonged to Sir John Hawkins.

"SAUL: Oratorio," in three parts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, flutes, bassoons, trombones, carillon, drums, strings (including "teorba," sc. theorbo), harp, harpsichord, and organ, in score, by Handel. The trombone parts are written out separately at the end. The whole is in the same hand as Add. 34006 [? that of John Christopher Smith, see above, p. 365]. Several of the numbers, which in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition are relegated to the Appendix, are given here in the body of the work, as is also the quasi-ritournelle for the harp, which follows David's air, "O Lord, whose Mercies." The scenes are indicated throughout, the famous Dead March being here styled "Elegy on the death of Saul and Jonathan."

THE HYMN of Eve, beginning "How chearful along the gay mead," from "Abel" [by Dr. Arne, 1755]. The melody with a bass.

Additional 5062.

Paper; ff. 154. Before 1760 (date of transcriber's death). Oblong quarto. Bookplate, with arms, of James Mathias.

"MESSIAH"; in score, by Handel, transcribed by Henry Needler, evidently from a very early copy taken before the alterations in the modern editions (dating from 1744?). The present MS. corresponds closely with Arnold's edition, omitting the alterations referred to above. The appearance of the word "Pif." [= Pifferari] at the beginning of the pastoral symphony would seem to show that the MS. was transcribed from the original; but on the other hand the settings of "Why do the nations" and "O death, where is thy sting," mentioned in the introduction to the English Handel Society's edition (q. v.) and given as alternatives in Arnold's edition, do not appear here.

Paper; after 1762 (the date of the other composition on the same page). Octavo. See also under Operas.

AN AIR without words or accompaniment, headed "Susanna." Possibly from the oratorio of that name, by Handel, but not recognizable in its present form.

Additional 11515-11517.

Paper; ff. 91, 70, 78. About 1764 (date of performance). Oblong quarto. Belonged to [James] Bartleman, and afterwards to William Brown Kitchiner (bookplate with arms).

"JUDITH": Oratorio in three acts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, horns, flutes, oboes, bassoons, strings, harpsichord and organ, in score, composed by Dr.

[Thomas Augustine] Arne. In three volumes. The greater part of it is autograph. A few leaves (ff. 38–41b) in vol. ii are in the hand of Dr. [Samuel] Arnold, who seems to have re-set the scene in which they are interpolated. One or two numbers given in Walsh's edition are omitted here; but on the other hand the recitatives and choruses, left out in the published edition, appear in full. The characters are Judith, Holofernes, Ozias, Abra, and Charmis.

Among the singers indicated as taking part in various performances of the work are [Giusto Ferdinando] Tenducci, [Charlotte] Brent, [Mary] Barthelemon, [Joseph] Vernon, [Theresa] Cornelys and [Samuel] Champness.

The air "How chearful along the gay plain" (vol. iii, f. 4) is the well-known "Hymn of Eve," from the same composer's "Abel," 1755, adapted for the present work.

"ISRAEL in Egypt": Oratorio in two parts, for solo voices and double choir, with symphonies and accompaniments for oboes, trumpets, bassoons, drums, strings, harpsichord, and organ, in score, by Handel [1738]. Apparently transcribed for Dr. [Samuel] Howard (d. 1782) with a view to engraving, and collated with two other scores. It corresponds very closely with the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition, except that the trombone parts are not included.

"RUTH," by S[amuel] W[esley]. Autograph. The MS. bears various dates between 8 Sept. and 26 Oct. 1774 (when the composer was only eight years old); and the airs are said to have been composed before he was six. In score, the accompaniments written for trumpets, drums, oboes, violina, violas, violoncello, and organ.

"L'ASSALONNE": Oratorio in two parts, for solo voices, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, horns, oboes, flutes, and strings, in score, by Domenico Cimarosa. Copied at Bologna. The characters are David, Assalonne, Abisai, and Gioabbo.

Additional 34999, ff. 1-80b.

Paper; A.D. 1779, etc. Quarto. The MS. appears to have belonged at one time to Vincent Novello (see f. 12). For other contents, see under Hymns (above, p. 194).

ACT II and part of act iii of "The Death of Abel," in full score, followed by the parts of the overture to act ii, by S[amuel] Wesley. Autograph. Said to have been composed when Wesley was eleven, but apparently a rather later copy. The overture bears the date 1779. The instruments employed are oboes, bassoons, strings, and organ; and occasionally also horns, trumpets, and drums.

Additional 16021.

Paper; ff. 186. About 1780 (supposed date of production). Oblong folio. The name of Walker, of 18 St. Martin's Street, occurs on f. 140, but whether as owner or copyist does not appear.

"LA DISTRUZIONE di Gerusalemme": Oratorio in two acts, for solo voices and 3-part chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, clarinets, horns, trumpets, bassoons, strings, and drums, in score, by Pietro Carlo Guglielmi. Both Fétis (Biographie Universelle) and Riemann (Opern-Handbuch) attributed this composition to Pietro Guglielmi the father, Riemann even giving the date as about 1780, in which year the younger Guglielmi was only about 17. Possibly the corrections and additions are in the hand of the latter. The characters are Semira, Nabucco, Almensor, Naballe, Manasse, Sedecia (alias Sidagero), Rabsace (alias Darbaees), and Geremia.

Paper; ff. 221. A.D. 1786, 1789. Quarto.

"THE CAPTIVITY of Judah": Oratorio in three parts, for solo voices and chorus (single and double), with symphonies and accompaniments for oboes, trumpets, bassoons, strings, drums, and organ, in score, by William Crotch. Autograph. The words were selected by the Rev. A. C. Schomberg, Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford (to whom the work was dedicated in 1790), and the Rev. J. Owen, of "Bene't" (Corpus Christi) College, Cambridge. It was begun in 1786 (when the composer was eleven years old), the last part and the entr'actes being written in 1789.

SKETCHES, in the hand of Joseph Haydn, of the choruses, "Awake the harp," and "The heav'ns are telling," in his Oratorio, "The Creation."

Additional 31412, ff. 61-70b.

Paper; about 1798 (see below). Oblong quarto. The MS. also contains Motets (above, p. 818), sacred Songs (below, p. 440), and various secular compositions, described elsewhere.

"JEPHTA": Oratorio, for solo voices and 4-part and 6-part chorus, with a figured bass for organ, in score, by Carissimi. The characters are Historicus (i.e. the Sacred Historian), Jephthah and his Daughter, and a Chorus. The whole is in the hand of Dr. Crotch, who has noted many of the passages borrowed by Handel. The MS. was acquired by the annotator at the sale of Dr. Philip Hayes' library in 1798, and many of the compositions (chiefly at the end of the volume) are in the hand of the later owner, who has also added a few remarks at the beginning on the styles of the chief composers whose works are contained in the volume.

Additional 31815, ff. 1-53b.

Paper; A.D. 1798. Oblong folio. The volume also contains a secular Chorus (1795), Glees (1800), and part of an Opera (1808), described elsewhere.

PORTIONS of the Oratorio, "The Captivity," in three acts, by R. J. S. Stevens, including the duet, "As panting flies the hunted hind" (with violin obligato, and figured bass for pianoforte, in score), and most of the choruses in acts i and iii (in parts). Autograph. At the beginning is Dr. Goldsmith's libretto in the composer's hand, with numerous alterations by him, preceded by a fair copy.

Paper; 18th cent. Oblong folio. See also under Motets (above, p. 327).

"JEPHTHA": Oratorio for solo voices with 4-part and 6-part choruses, and a bass for organ, in score, by Carissimi. The last chorus (f. 66b) was transcribed by Rev. William Gostling, the remaining part of the work being added afterwards.

Additional 31560.

Paper; ff. 110. 18th cent. Oblong folio.

"ESTHER, an Oratorio," or more properly speaking, "Haman and Mordecai, a masque"; for solo voices and 8-part chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, horns, oboes, bassoons, harp, and strings, in full score, by Handel. It is a transcript of the earlier form of the work, which was performed at Cannons in 1720 under the latter title. The chief variations from the edition published by the Händel Gesellschaft are (1) the transposition of the order of the numbers "Ye Sons of Israel" and "O Jordan"; (2) the transposition of the numbers "Save us, O Lord" and "How can I stay"; (3) the substitution of the words "Tyrants may awhile presume," etc., for those of the chorus published as "Virtue, truth and innocence"; and (4) the omission in the present copy of the scene which concludes the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition, beginning "Let Israel songs of joy repeat."

The MS. is said to be in the hand of [John] C[hristopher] Smith [? the younger], Handel's amanuensis.

Additional 31570.

Paper; ff. 225. 18th cent. Folio.

"JEPHTHA": Oratorio in three acts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for horns, oboes, flutes, strings, and harpsichord or organ, in score, by Handel; being the copy used by Dr. Samuel Arnold in the preparation of his edition of the work [after 1786]. He has taken Walsh's printed edition as the basis of the new one, the choruses and recitatives being added in MS. The arrangement of the numbers exactly corresponds with that followed in the Händel-Gesellschaft's edition.

"CHRISTUS am Oelberge": a short Oratorio, for 3 solo voices (Christ, a Seraph, and Peter), and Choruses of Disciples and Soldiers, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, clarinets, horns, bassoons, trombones, drums and strings, in score, by Ludwig van Beethoven, in whose hand are a considerable number of alterations and corrections. Under the original text a second is written in red ink, and in some passages a further alternative is given. The whole of this last and a few sentences from the second version (as indicated in the present MS.) have been embodied in Breitkopf and Härtel's modern edition of this Oratorio. The present copy was probably used either at the first performance at Vienna (in 1803) or at the original publication of the work by the above-mentioned firm in 1811. The concluding chorus is wanting.

"PALESTINE": Oratorio, in two parts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, clarinets, horns, trumpets, cymbal, trombones, bassoons, drums, strings, organ, and pianoforte or harp, in score, by William Crotch, "Mus. Doc., Professor of music in the University of Oxford." Autograph. The words were selected from Reginald Heber's prize poem of the same title. The names of the singers at the first performance were Mrs. Vaughan (née Tennant), Mrs. Ashe (née Comer), Miss Darby; W. Knyvett; [Samuel] Harrison and [Thomas] Vaughan; [James] Bartleman, [William?] Beale, [T. Ludford?] Bellamy, and J. B. Sale.

Vol. i contains the original score; vol. ii is a transcript made by the composer in December, 1811, immediately after the completion of the work.

THE SEPARATE instrumental parts of the "Messiah," by Handel. Vols. i-iii contain the string parts (7 first violins, 7 second violins, 4 violas, 6 violoncellos and basses), printed; with MS. additions and corrections by Sir George T. Smart. Vol. iv contains the wind parts (1st and 2nd flutes, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th oboes, clarinets, horns, and bassoons; 1st and 2nd trumpets; 1st, 2nd, and 3rd trombones), and parts for small and large drums; including Mozart's additional accompaniments. The whole was prepared by Sir George for the first performance in England of these accompaniments (30th Jan. 1813), and was bequeathed by him to the British Museum in 1867.

Paper; A.D. 1812-1828. Folio. The MS. also contains an Ode (1834).

"THE CAPTIVITY of Judah": Oratorio in two parts, for solo voices and chorus, with symphonies and accompaniments for trumpets, drums, clarinets, flutes, oboes, horns, bassoons, trombones, strings, and organ, in score, by William Crotch, Mus. Doc. Autograph. Quite different from his earlier composition of the same title. The present work was begun in 1812 and completed in its first form in 1815; but it did not receive the finishing touches till 1828. It was performed on 10th June, 1834, at the installation of the Duke of Wellington as Chancellor of the University of Oxford, when the solo parts were taken by Mme. Caradori[-Allan], Miss [Elizabeth] Masson, William Knyvett, [John] Braham, [Thomas] Vaughan, and [Henry] Phillips.

"DANIEL'S PREDICTION," or "The Vision of Belshazzar": Oratorio in two parts, for solo voices and chorus of from 4 to 8 voices, with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes, oboes, clarinets, horns, trumpets, trombones, bassoons, strings, drums, and organ or pianoforte, in full score, by Charles Edward Horn. The pianoforte part has been cut from the printed score and pasted on at the bottom of each page. The words were principally selected from Hannah More's work (see the printed libretto at the beginning) by Charles H. Purday, who is the composer of the air, "For the homes of our Fathers" (vol. i, f. 94b). The score is said to be autograph. Vol. ii, f. 39, is in a different hand from the rest. In vol. i, f. 6b, is a printed sketch of the life of the composer.

Paper; A.D. 1863-1866. Large folio, etc. The MS. also contains a sacred Chorus (above, p. 170) and a Pianoforte Solo (1877).

"CHRISTUS": Oratorio in three parts, for solo voices (Christus, Mary Magdalene, etc.), and choruses of from 4 to 10 voices (Disciples, Women of Jerusalem, etc.), with symphonies and accompaniments for flutes (piccolo, etc.), oboes, clarinets, horns (English, etc.), trumpets, trombones, bassoons, tuba, drums, cymbals, strings, harp, harmonium and organ, in score, by F. Liszt. Autograph. At f. 83 follows a pianoforte accompaniment, which appears to have been missing till 1886, when it was discovered by Fräulein Lina Schmalhausen (afterwards the possessor of the score) and presented to her by the composer. The principal variations from the score published at Leipzig by Schubert are the transposition of the order of the Shepherds' song and the "Stabat Mater Speciosa"; and the omission in the present MS. of the Beatitudes (for which reference is made to the work of that name previously published by Kahnt), and also of the instrumental accompaniments to the "Tu es Petrus" and of the Easter hymn, "O Filii et Filiae," which should precede the final scene "Resurrexit."

Paper; ff. 54. A.D. 1886 (see below). Folio. Presented by Augustus Hughes-Hughes, Esq.

"RAPPRESENTAZIONE di Anima e di Corpo nuovamente posta in Musica dal Sig^e Emilio del Cavalliere per recitar cantando; data in Nice da Alessandro Guidotti Bolognese . . . Roma. Appresso Nicolo Mutij . . . MDC." Transcribed, together with the dedication, proemio, etc., in 1886, for the donor, from the unique copy in the Brussels Conservatoire, made in 1842 from the original edition. The earlier transcript is responsible for the modern spelling.

This earliest specimen of Oratorio was composed for solo voices and 4-part or 8-part chorus, with short symphonies and accompaniments, in score. The instrumental parts do not appear to have been written for any special instruments; but in the general instructions to the Reader, in which the editor professes to follow the lines indicated by the composer, the following instruments are suggested:—"Lira doppia," "clavicembalo," "chitarrone o tiorba," and an "organo soave." In the dedication 2 flutes or "tobie all' antica" are also specified for use in the "Festa" or ballet which is added, for optional performance, at the end of the work. In this the music is accompanied by words which are directed to be sung by the dancers.

The Dramatis personæ, or "Interlocutori che intervengono," are Tempo, Intelletto, Corpo, Anima, Consiglio, Piacere "con due compagni," Angelo Custode, Mondo and Vita Mondana, with Choruses of Angels, Condemned Spirits, etc. The whole is divided into three acts, of which the first consists of five scenes, the others of nine each.

ROUNDS.

See under CANONS (above, pp. 113-129).

SECTION XXV.—SERVICES

AS USED IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

In describing these, the expression Whole Service has been taken to include Te Deum, Benedictus, Kyrie, Creed, Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis; Morning Service, to include Te Deum and Benedictus; and Evening Service, Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis. Any variations from these definitions are indicated. Each Service is understood to be written for 4 voices, unless the contrary is stated. For Burial Services, see above, under Anthems.

Additional 5665, ff. 95b-106.

Paper and vellum; temp. Henry VIII. Octavo. See also under Motets (above, p. 260).

TE DEUM, in parts, by "Syr" Thomas Packe. The words "Te Deum laudamus" are first sung by a solo voice, being immediately followed by the "Te Dominum confitemur," sung by a chorus of 5 voices. The Te Deum proper then begins with the words "We prayse the, almy3ty god; we knowlych the oure mercyfulle lord." This and the following verses (in which Latin words are occasionally introduced), as far as "We synners laude and prayse þ^e euyr all and summe," are sung by 3 solo voices, the refrain "Te Dominum confitemur" being repeated by the chorus after each verse. For the remaining verses there is an alternative setting for a solo voice.

Additional 34191, ff. 35b-43, 47b-50b.

Paper; temp. Henry VIII, etc. Small quarto. See also under Masses (above, p. 212).

SECTION XXVI.—SONGS.

Arundel 44, f. 1.

Vellum; 12th cent. Small folio.

"AUDITE, o lucis filie": verses prefixed to a German MS. of the Speculum Virginum. The musical notes which accompany the text throughout are in the form of neums on a stave of four lines, with the C and F signatures, the C line being coloured yellow (?) and the F line red; the B rotundum is also occasionally indicated.

Arundel 501, ff. 16, 16b.

Vellum; 12th cent. Small folio. In a MS. of miscellaneous pieces, mostly connected with western Germany.

FRAGMENT, of 138 lines (of which the initial letters form an anagram on the Church), from a Latin poem apparently founded on the Apocalypse. The beginning is lost. Musical notes, expressed by neums, are given to the eight lines commencing "Quenam hec tam mirificis ornanda tunc induiis," and to the first part of what remains of the anagram as written out in the margin.

Royal 5. F. vii, f. 85.

Vellum; 12th-13th cent. Octavo.

FOUR short poems inserted at the beginning of a life of St. Godric the hermit, of Finchale; accompanied by small square and diamond-shaped black notes on a stave of four red lines, with the C or B \flat signature. Nos. 2 and 3 are described as "Cantus beati Godrici de sancta maria."

Vellum; 13th cent. Quarto.

FRAGMENT of a Song to the Virgin, in English. It begins, "Seinte Marie, uirgine moder," and is accompanied by small square and diamond-shaped notes on a staff of four red lines with the CB signature. The words are introduced in a life of St. Godric epitomized at the request of Æthelred, Abbot of Rievaulx, and are supposed to be by the Saint (see Royal 5. F. vii, f. 85, above, p. 422).

Egerton 274, ff. 3-56b passim.

Vellum; late 13th cent. Duodecimo. For a further description of the MS., see under secular Songs.

"Dicta Magistri Ph[ilippi] de Grevia quondam cancellarij Parisiensis"; probably written in France. The music to no. 6 appears to be by Henry of Pisa, Friar Minor, who is therefore possibly responsible for the rest. (See Paul Meyer, Documents manuscrits de l'ancienne Littérature de la France, part i, pp. 7-12.) All the sacred compositions in this MS. set for 1 voice are described under the present heading for the sake of uniformity, though some are liturgical in form (Sequences and Hymns).

Royal 12. E. i, ff. 193-195.

Vellum; late 13th cent. Duodecimo. The MS. contains a miscellaneous collection of prayers, lives of Saints, etc., in various hands, and (at the end) a "Narratio [Roberti Grossetête, episcopi] Lincolnensis pro collectione elemosine."

"STOND wel moder vnder rode": a sacred Song, the music to which resembles in form that of the Latin Sequence. It is followed by a semi-religious French Song, the first few words of which are lost. The notes used are square and diamond-shaped on a stave of four red lines, with the C, B♭, and C B♭ signatures.

Arundel 248, ff. 154, 155.

Vellum; early 14th cent. Octavo. In a collection of miscellaneous theological and moral pieces.

HYMNS, "The Milde Lomb" (on the crucifixion), "Worldes blis," and "Bien deust chanter" (to the Virgin); written in long lines, in England, with small square musical notes on staves of four or five lines, on which the C or B♭, or both, are indicated.

Royal 6. E. ix, f. 29.

Vellum; about 1334-1342. Folio. In an Italian MS. of the poems of Con-venevole da Prato.

HYMN, "pro pace Roberti Regis (sc. Robert of Anjou, King of Naples)," beginning "Spiritus alme, ueni."
